

Rebels Turning To Terrorism As Troops Flee

Guerrilla Destruction of Life and Property New Policy of Republicans; Flying Columns Formed

Heavy Fighting in Dublin

Snipers and Murder Bands Busy in Capital Dealing Death to Nationalists

LONDON, Aug. 19.—A Press Association dispatch from Dublin says there is ample evidence that the irregulars, who admittedly have been defeated in the field, are planning a new campaign of terrorism and destruction. The insurgents' tactics are undergoing a change which has become more and more apparent since their rout from Cork.

It is not their intention to hold on to areas as an organized force and invite conflicts at close quarters with the Free State forces, adds the dispatch, but to strike swiftly and inflict the maximum amount of harm to all men of questionable loyalty. The irregulars are declared to be underground organization into flying columns, composed of about thirty to forty men and divided into squads of five to carry out the new tactics.

The irregulars intend to conduct guerrilla warfare "by the same methods as when war was waged against the English"—in these words the irregular higher command has notified the rank and file. At the same time strict orders have been issued against "disciplined looting." The burning of hay racks, courthouses and workhouses and the destruction of railway and bridges will continue and is authorized by the leaders.

The mutineers may be inclined, comments the Press Association correspondent, to ignore the supremely important fact that in the main the people of Ireland favor the national troops; that the Free Staters had ample experience with guerrilla warfare without support from the people and that spasmodic attacks by roving bands cannot be conducted with complete immunity to those taking part in the attacks.

Events in Dublin the past two or three days are pointed to as giving a good indication of the new methods. Bombs were hurled into a motor car containing National officers. Before the horrified civilians in the crowded street had time to recover from their astonishment the attacking party had vanished. In another case troops traveling in a covered car were attacked in full view of passersby. After firing a dozen shots the assailants fled in all directions.

Night firing, which had been carried on intermittently, was increased during the week.

First Woman Marshal Quits Post in Disgust

Drunken Men Just Laughed at Her, and She Was Helpless, She Complains

DESLACS, N. D., Aug. 19 (By The Associated Press).—Mrs. Bertha Ward, elected village marshal last spring when a complete feminine administration was swept into office, has surrendered her star to the village council because "a drunken man or some one acting in a disorderly manner would just laugh at me, and I was helpless."

Mrs. Ward's colleagues opposed her resignation, fearing failure of the feminine regime might be inferred. Her husband favored it.

Daniel Olson, the new marshal, is a section hand. He announced an order of strict law enforcement. "The job is too tough," Mrs. Ward said to-day, explaining her resignation. "But, believe me, it was a great experience. I was just a little afraid to tackle the job last spring, but I decided that experience was all I needed. I found, however, that my physical prowess was against me. Being a woman of small stature, I could not have any influence on a drunken man. Instead, they would just laugh at me, and I was helpless."

She had made no arrests, although her efforts occasionally were expended in that direction. On one occasion Deputy Sheriff Vandenoever was called from Minot to quell a disturbance.

Mrs. Ward was said to have been the first woman marshal in the United States.
